

added much to the enjoyment of the informal little affair as soon as the fizz had a chance.

Among the pleasantest affairs conducted with the aid of Jack O'Lanterns were those given by the "Auld Lang Syne" club, the Uintah club, Mrs. W. H. Alexander, Mrs. Dick, Mrs. A. V. Callaghan and Miss Kinney, the Misses Kirkpatrick and Miss Helen Burton.

A bal masque was given at Rowland Hall, and another at the Manitou, and all in all the evening was very lively for most of the cliques that participated.

The splendid recital of Mrs. Somers-Cocks at the First Congregational church on Thursday evening, assisted by Miss Flanders, Mr. Skelton, and Mr. Radcliff, was one of the musical treats of the winter, enjoyed by an audience largely composed of those who are interested in vocal music.

An interesting tea of Monday was that given by Mrs. William C. Jennings in honor of Mrs. William T. Igleheart and Mrs. Bacon.

Mrs. L. C. Miller entertained at a luncheon on Wednesday for her guest, Mrs. Somers-Cocks.

The wedding of Miss Crete Pinkerton and Joseph Grant, which took place at the Central Christian church on Wednesday evening, was a beautiful affair, witnessed by hundreds of friends who filled the church, which had been rarely decorated for the occasion.

The father of the bride, Dr. Thomas W. Pinkerton, officiated, and the bride was attended by Mrs. Edward Moore, Miss Daisy Savage, Miss Olive Jennings and Miss Helen Buckingham, and Dr. A. C. Wherry was best man for Mr. Grant, the ushers being Messrs. Roy Wyland, Jay Buckingham, Wayne Hemphill and John Hanson.

After the ceremony a wedding supper was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant will be away for a month or six weeks, returning to make their home here before the holidays.

There has seldom been seen so pretty a color scheme so well carried out as the yellow and white effect used at the Pinkerton-Grant wedding. It was one of the really pretty weddings of the autumn season.
